“Trans 101”

Featuring Shawn Reagor

Shawn Reagor (he/him) is a community organizer with the Montana Human Rights Network. He works primarily on LGBTQ rights and with the trans, nonbinary, and two spirit community. In 2018, Shawn was selected for a fellowship with the Trans Justice Funding Project. That same year, he worked on a campaign in Anchorage, Alaska to defeat the first anti-trans bathroom law to make its way onto a ballot. He was the co-chair for the Free and Fair campaign that prevented a similar bathroom initiative from reaching the ballot in Montana and was part of forming TransVisible Montana. Shawn has started support groups in 3 Montana cities.
